GREAT AEROPLANE NAVIGATOR

In America to Make a Series of Flights

Under Contract to Aero Club of America—Says He Will Fly Against Wright Brothers and Their Machine.

New York, July 26.—Henri Farman, who holds the record as an aeroplane navigator, arrived today from Havre by the French liner La Touraine and was met at quarantine by the representatives of the Aero Club of America in the tug Moran, which took him aboard and brought him up the bay to the pier of the French line. Among his welcome were Allen R. Hawley, president of the Aero club; Thos. R. McMechan, editor of the American Aeronaut; Simon Lake, the submarine boat inventor; Chas. J. Glidden, Wm. R. Kimball, A. Holland Webb and Paul La Croix. Mr. Farman is classed by the Englishman as one of that breed, but he looks more like a Frenchman and authorized the reporters to spell his front name as it is here. His father is a Scotchman and he was brought up and educated in France, where his parents have lived for the last 40 years.

Mr. Farman was induced to come here by the Aero club under contract to give ascensions at the Brighton Beach race track for $24,600. He is confident that he will not disappoint the club and hopes also to make 15 other flights in most of the big cities of the country at the rate of $200 each. He will, after his various public performances, challenge the Wright brothers, wagering $10,000 to a similar sum put up by them in their belief that his aeroplane will stay in the air the longest.

Mr. Farman said that he had fashioned his machine, strictly a heavier than air machine, somewhat after the fashion of a huge bird and that he believed a study of bird flight was the best means of accomplishing man flight. He said, "I have made no secret of my methods. My machine is a combination of the ideas of other inventors who have striven to fly without the aid of gas bags, including Langley and Delagrang. The machine of Delagrang, in which he claims to have covered 16,000 yards in 15 1/2 minutes, is similar to my own. I disagree with the policy of the Wright brothers in keeping their experiments a secret. I am willing that other aviators shall have a chance to see how I make my flights and how I manage my machine and what sort of a machine I use. What we do should be for the general improvement in the art of aerial navigation. We are constantly discovering something new about the aeroplane.

"I shall use the same aeroplane at Brighton Beach that I have used in France, but with a larger and more powerful motor. The whole apparatus weighs about a ton and a half. I shall fly about 15 feet above the ground, as I have mostly in France. I have never sailed as high as your scrapers. I look upon the navigation of the air as a certainty and I believe that finally it will be attended with no more danger than a trip in an auto; in some instances I should say with less danger; the aeroplane has a future that is close upon us. The greatest pause I have made in a flight has been ten seconds; but I believe the time is not far distant when we may see aeroplanes motionless in the sky and perhaps as numerous as automobiles on the land."

Mr. Farman has gone in for money prizes from the start and has won more than any other aviator. He captured in January last the Deutsch-Archdeacon prize of $10,000 by making a circular flight of nearly three-quarters of a mile in Paris last January. Two months later he captured another prize by a flight in a circle of one mile and a half, which he covered in two minutes and a quarter. In the early part of this month, he did his greatest stunt, which he hopes to eclipse here, staying in the air twenty minutes and nineteen seconds, covering 11 miles and winning a prize of $2000.

Mr. Farman met Wm. Wright in Paris and talked with him in English about aeroplanes. He says that Mr. Wright knows a lot about the subject and that he doubtless has a good machine, but he, Mr. Farman, is willing to try conclusions with him for the love of the sport and the promotion of knowledge on the subject of air navigation. Mr. Farman does not believe in the combination aeroplane and gas bag airship as the sky flyer of the future. Something on the plan of the great birds that do the trick so easily and gracefully will be, he thinks, the solution of the problem that is well on the way toward becoming no problem at all.

Mr. Farman was taken from the French line pier, where the tug Moran landed him, and the reception committee, to the Hotel Astor. He will be entertained officially by the Aero club at the hotel on Thursday evening. Mr. Farman has two machines, both aboard the Red Star liner Kronland due tomorrow from Antwerp. In case of accident to the one he has made his greatest flight, he will use the other. They are in charge of five machinists and a carpenter. Mr. Farman will make his first flight at the race track on Saturday, putting in the intervening time getting the machines in good shape. He expressed himself pleased to know that he would be the first aviator, native or foreign, to make a public flight in America.

WOOSTER PASTOR IS ACCUSED OF GRAVE CRIME BY A GIRL

Wooster, O., July 26.—Rev. Herbert Brodt, pastor of the German Evangelical church, suddenly disappeared from the city early this morning after having Gladys Fogelson, aged fourteen, in his room for twelve hours, while her grandmother was seeking her. The girl emerged from the pastor's house shortly after 12 o'clock and told her grandmother that she had been automobile riding.

She admits that Rev. Brodt, who has been pastor of the church for sixteen months and is unmarried, had kissed her, hugged her and had most of her clothing removed. The police were notified and Chief Leifer had an interview with the girl, who is now ill at her home, Sunday afternoon. She would not admit her guilt.

HUGHES MUM ON SECOND TERM IDEA

Saranac Inn, N. Y., July 26.—It was stated tonight that Governor Hughes as yet had received no communication from President Roosevelt nor Chairman Woodruff in regard to the governor's accepting another term. Governor Hughes refusing to comment on the published interviews with prominent Republicans wherein they were quoted as having nothing to say upon the political situation caused by the governor's announcement. Neither would Governor Hughes discuss the interview of William Barnes, Jr., where Mr. Barnes declared that it would be shown at the primaries that not 20 per cent of the voters would express a desire for Hughes's re-nomination.

It was learned today that William H. Taft, the Republican presidential nominee, will come into the woods August 17 for a few days' stay at a private camp. Governor Hughes will return to Albany August 15.

POLICE GET BUSY

And Raid Several Disreputable Houses in the Red Light District.

The "Standing Room Only" sign had to be displayed in the women's department of the city prison at an early hour Sunday morning, for the two cells contained five inmates. The police decided that there should be a little cleaning up in certain parts of the city, and the consequence was that Mrs. Goodman, keeping a house of ill fame on Saxton street, and Lillian Hayes, stopping at the same place, were the first arrivals. Later on Georgia Akison, who resides over another house on South Cherry street, and Edna Kelley, were given another cell. The next arrival was Mrs. Jessie Taylor, who was arrested for unlawfully living with McClellan Liggett on South Young street, while the man was given a place in the other department. The Goodman woman and her girl succeeded in getting out, while the others spent Sunday and Sunday night in the prison. Chief Smith served notice on these people to close their houses sometime ago, but they did not heed the warning.

AUDITORS WANT TERMS EXTENDED

Sandusky, O., July 24.—Four questions occupied the State Association of County Auditors at their meeting in the Cedar Point convention hall. The matter of salary and the proposed lengthening of the terms were the two of most importance and these were discussed largely along the same lines as at the meeting in Columbus six months ago. The auditors wish a fixed salary which will be due whether the office makes it or not and they also wish a four-year term instead of the two-year which now obtains.

Other questions discussed in an informal way were the manner of paying the relief under the new blind law and the fees of the auditors when appraising railroads. It has been decided in the latter case that the auditors must pay their expenses out of their own salaries and turn in their fee to the office.

ANSWER TO QUERY

In answer to a query as to whether an applicant for naturalization, who is entitled to second and final papers can take them out in time to vote at the fall elections the News advises as follows:

If the application for second papers were filed in time to allow ninety days to elapse before September 15, at which an examination will take place in this city, the applicant can, provided he passes the examination, vote at the fall election.

If the application has not yet been filed it will be impossible to obtain second and final papers before January, 1909. The government makes it a rule not to grant final papers within thirty days of a general election and for that reason no examinations are held and no papers granted in October.

Farmers Must Obey Sanitation Ordinance.

Sanitary Policeman Thompson is after the farmers who haul swill through the streets of the city in open barrels. He says that the new ordinance requiring garbage gatherers to have their garbage in closed receptacles is intended for the farmer as well as the city garbage handler and he has filed a complaint against one man residing north of the city.

BANKERS

OF PITTSBURG FRAME A LAW

That Congress Will be Asked to Pass

It Looks to Better Protection of Both Bankers and Depositors—Pittsburg Banks Have Lost $10,000,000.

Pittsburg, July 26.—Having within the past few years lost almost $10,000,000 through stealings of dishonest employees and finding public confidence in national banks shaken, and deposits to a certain extent being withheld, the bankers of Pittsburg are debating on a measure to be presented to the next congress to better insure the depositors in national banks the safety of their deposits. The bill is being framed and Congressman Burke will be asked to present it.

The idea in rough is that stockholders in all national banks of the country be assessed a certain percentage on their annual or semi-annual dividends, this money to be held by the United States treasury as a reserve fund to pay off depositors of national banks the moment a bank's doors are closed.

As soon as it is announced that a national bank is in distress, rather as soon as the government steps in and takes charge, a call will be issued for all depositors to turn in their pass books and as soon as their claims shall have been proved, which would be within a few days, all depositors would be issued checks on the United States treasury reserve for the full amount of their claims. The government would then proceed to deal with the bank wreckers and collecting all possible, would turn it into the reserve treasury fund against the cash which had been paid out to depositors. It is figured here that this guarantee of immediate settlement and settlement in full to depositors would have the effect of restoring confidence and bringing out millions in cash now being held in the family purses of the United States.

STATE GRANGE MEET

Hon. F. A. Derthick, State Master, Issues Call for Reunion.

The one event to which all patrons of husbandry look forward to with pleasurable anticipation is the annual reunion of that order. Hon. F. A. Derthick, state master, has issued the following official call:

"Patrons of Ohio are eagerly looking forward to our annual gathering on the state fair grounds at Columbus, which occurs this year Wednesday and Thursday, September 2 and 3. Headquarters will be at Grange hall in the Administration building, where every provision will be made for the comfort of visiting Patrons. Let all who have ever been within our gates, but who may have lost active connections with the order, come and renew their fellowship and learn what great strides are being made by the grange along social, educational and economic lines. Prominent Patrons will be present, and interesting exercises will be announced later. The state board of agriculture has in the past proved a gracious host, and will spare no pains this year to make our reunion a red letter day in our memory. Come, and bring your friends; leave your packages and wraps at headquarters. See the great exposition and renew and extend your acquaintance."

"Fraternally,
"F. A. DERTHICK,
"Master Ohio State Grange."

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR S. & C. RAILROAD

Thomas H. Loomis, the general manager and chief engineer of the Steubenville and Canton road, the electric line which is being built between Steubenville and this city, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Canton looking after the interests of the road. Mr. Loomis reports that the prospects for a speedy building of the road look very good in Carrollton, Minerva, Waynesburg, Steubenville and other points along the proposed route.

MASSILLON BANK

Says It Was Never Stockholder in Aultman, Miller and Company.

Akron, July 23.—In an answer to cross-petition of First National bank of Chicago in the suit of Peter J. Little against the Aultman, Miller & Co., the Union National bank, Massillon, asked to have service against it, as a co-defendant in the suit, quashed. The Massillon bank denies that it is or ever has been a stockholder in the Aultman, Miller & Co., and prays that it may be dismissed from the action.

Big Bass Caught at Meyer's Lake. George Hexamer caught a bass at Meyer's lake Saturday, which was regarded as one of the best fish taken from the lake this season. It was exactly 22 inches long and weighed six and one-half pounds. He also had in his catch a number of the catfish, several of them weighing two pounds and over.

ENGLISH SPARROW

Will Take Care of White Winged Moth Says Entomologist.

Albany, N. Y., July 21.—State Entomologist E. P. Felt says the English sparrows will take care of the white-winged linden moth which infested Manhattan island last week and which have reached Albany and Troy. It was to rid the country of this species of moth that English sparrows were originally introduced into this country in 1850, to save the shade trees.

GERMAN-AMERICAN ALLIANCE MEETING

The Stark County German-American Alliance will hold its first open meeting in Canton Monday evening. This meeting will be held in the Dixie theatre and will open at 8 o'clock in the evening, when John Schwab, president of the German-American Alliance of Ohio, will make the principal address.

JOHNSON

Defeated in Attempt to Place Independent Ticket in Summit County

HAVE NOT GIVEN UP

Akron, O., July 26.—The independent movement of the Johnson-Millikin Democrats to place another Summit county ticket in the field was thwarted Saturday at a mass convention which was little short of a riot, and had as leading features a struggle on the platform between C. W. Millikin and W. E. Spencer for the chairmanship, and finally the adoption of a motion by ex-Mayor W. E. Young excluding John Russell, leader of the independent movement from the floor.

Fearing the effect of having two tickets in the field, and working in the interest of a primary to be held next Thursday, the anti-Johnson faction, led by ex-Mayor C. W. Kempel and 'he liquor leaders are accused of having packed the meeting, and filled the hall with a mob whose members did whatever they were told.

Dr. C. W. Millikin was proposed for chairman of the meeting by Russell, and W. E. Spencer was nominated by Mayor W. T. Sawyer. Each attempted to take charge of the meeting, but Millikin was overruled, but before stepping down declared the meeting adjourned.

This did not satisfy the dominating faction, and Spencer was recognized as chairman, Russell in the meantime attempting to speak. When he made remarks that were considered derogatory to S. A. Robinson, regular candidate for congress, he was hooted down, and a motion ordering him from the floor was passed.

I. H. Phelps, Millikinite, succeeded in reading resolutions denouncing the methods of Garber, Judge Rockwell and their local leaders, Holloway and Koplin, but they were quickly voted down. Amidst yells of "no" from the Millikin faction, a motion was adopted declaring it the sense of the convention that no independent ticket be named, and the convention then adjourned. The Johnson faction still declares its intention of placing another ticket in the field.

A movement is on foot among the leaders here and elsewhere in the state to try to remove Dr. Millikin from the state committee as the member of this district on the ground that he has taken part in the independent movement here.

Joseph Sapeiro, Mute, Has Disappeared

Relatives of Joseph Sapeiro, who came here from Cleveland to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Levin, 914 South Cherry street, are greatly worried over his sudden disappearance. The man is about 25 years of age and is a mute. He came here a week ago and seemed to be enjoying his visit. Thursday morning about 4 o'clock he left his bed and started out for a walk, since which time nothing has been heard of him. The police were asked to investigate.

Will Furnish Gas for Kent.

Kent, O., July 23.—President M. B. Daly of the East Ohio Gas company, was given a 10-year franchise to furnish gas for Kent at 38 cents per thousand, with a reduction of 3 cents a thousand when paid by the tenth of the month.

Humane Officer Has Baby for Adoption.

Superintendent Frazer, of the Humane society, has a little five-week-old child in his possession, for whom he desires a home. The mother of this child is dead and the little one can be legally adopted. The humane officer says that the father of this child is a soldier who formerly guarded the monument and he may take some action to have him brought back to this city and provide for the keeping of the little one, providing no person is found to give it a home.

Woman Gets Workhouse Sentence.

May Howe's case did not cause any loss of time in Mayor Turnbull's court, Thursday, although when arrested she denied that she was drunk and said she would have her case appealed to the highest courts in the country. She was not given much of a chance to tell her story and was sent to the workhouse on a sentence imposed last Monday, when she was ordered to leave the city. William Roush, her companion, was allowed his liberty.

Columbus—Receiver Claude Meeker, of the Ohio Sun, has failed to find purchaser of the property.

IN THE COURTS

Olive P. Sickafoose has filed a partition suit in common pleas court naming Margaret O. Elson as defendant. The plaintiff claims an interest in common with the defendant in 88 acres of land situated in Sandy township, this county, which was the property of Lavina Sickafoose, now deceased. The plaintiff states that she and the defendant are the only heirs-at-law of the deceased and asks that the court partition the land and that if this cannot be done without injury to either party that it be sold. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney James H. Robertson.

William H. Kitzmiller has filed suit in common pleas court against Jesse B. and Frances J. Miller in which he asks for the recovery of deeds for certain lands in Osnaburg township and damages in the sum of $10,500. The plaintiff alleged that he transferred the property in Osnaburg township to the defendants on the condition that they, in turn, transfer to him certain lands situated in Canton township. He claims he delivered the deeds and that later he found that the defendants were not the owners of the Canton township property. Because of this he asks for the return of the deeds he delivered.

The plaintiff also sets up the claim that he and a partner, J. H. Lehmler, had been mining coal, taken from the Canton township property, that they have been practically evicted from the said property. For this reason he asks for a judgment of $10,500. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney D. C. Hughes.

A peculiar domestic tangle was solved by Probate Judge Bow yesterday morning in a manner that might not have been beneath King Solomon. The judge received complaints from Henry Wendling and his wife in which each charged the other with being irrational. The husband filed the first complaint and his wife was not slow in following suit.

Yesterday the cases came up for hearing. Judge Bow took the complaints by surprise when he stated that he would switch the examining physicians and have the expert retained by the wife examine the husband and vice versa. This startling departure caused the attorneys, Werners for the wife and Youtzey for the husband to quickly get together in conference and the result was a motion to dismiss the case. This was quickly done by the court. The couple are said to have not been living in harmony.

Judge Bow yesterday allowed the writ of habeas corpus sued for by Attorney Turner, representing Miss Una D. Connell, the Hartford street school teacher accused of inhumanely whipping Charles Numan, on the ground that when Justice Barrick did not take final jurisdiction of the case and held the defendant to the probate court he lost jurisdiction of the person of the defendant on that particular affidavit. He still has jurisdiction of the cause and the defendant may be brought to trial before the justice in the event that the complaining witness files another affidavit. The record of the justice in the case just closed cannot be re-opened, however, and unless a new action is commenced the defendant cannot be held. The case has been in the justice and probate courts for several weeks and because of the legal tangle which followed the attempt at prosecution has aroused more than usual interest.
